The Bell Broadcast and New Media Fund was established by Bell Canada in 1997 and is now funded by approximately $3.5 million in annual contributions from Bell Express Vu. The Fund was created to encourage the linkages between Canadian broadcast and new media sectors, and to stimulate the production of interactive content reflecting current and emerging industry needs and practices.

Eligible projects must be broadcast productions with a guaranteed broadcast licence and must include a new media component. Both components are required in order for either to be eligible for funding support. The Fund provides grants to qualified Canadian broadcast and new media producers. The grant provides licence fee top-up of 50% of total Canadian broadcast licence fees (up to $75,000) in addition to a grant of 50% of the cost of production of the new media component (up to $250,000).

New in 2001: A development program to support new media content development.

Eligible Projects

Broadcast
Must have a broadcast licence commitment and be certified Canadian by the CRTC, and must be either a drama, variety, documentary, children's, performing arts, or educational program.

New Media

1. It must be a new media project (deliverable on a digital network, with an emphasis on interaction, compelling video animation or other graphic and sound content).
2. It must not be an industrial, corporate or primarily promotional project, including promotional websites and CD-ROMs, new media video games, and stand-alone CD-ROMs not designed for electronic distribution.

Application deadlines are: February 1, May 1, October 1. Decisions are generally made within four to six weeks of receipt of completed applications.

The Fund is administered by the Independent Production Fund. For more information contact the above offices.

Board of Directors

Peter Mortimer (President), Denise Robert, Robert Roy (Vice-President), Bernard Montigny, Paul Gratton, Heather McGillivray

The Independent Production Fund was established as a private independent foundation to assist independent production companies in financing the production of Canadian TV drama series for private sector broadcasters, with a capital endowment now totalling $36 million. The annual revenues generated by this capital, plus any profits, return of equity, and other, constitute the funds at the Board's disposal each year. This amounts to approximately $3.5 million annually.

Structure of the Fund

The Foundation is incorporated federally as a corporation without share capital and has been granted charitable status. The Board of Directors is composed of Directors representing the industry. The operations of the Fund are administered by offices in Toronto and Montréal.

Objectives

The focus is on (1) the production of dramatic series for prime time telecast, and (2) the production of dramatic series for children. The primary criterion for acceptance by the Fund is the quality of the project. The Fund wishes to have a significant impact on the financing of each of the projects in which it participates.

Programs

The Fund provides equity financing for series production grants to TV organizations and associations for development programs.

Deadlines

February 15, April 15, October 1. Decisions are made by the Board approximately six weeks after these deadlines.

Guidelines and applications available from Toronto and Montréal offices.

Rogers Telefund provides interim financing to Canadian producers to encourage the production of high-quality TV programming. Projects with a distinct Canadian element are favoured. Rogers Telefund requires evidence that a project has been fully financed before advancing funds. Proof is provided by the producers through signed presale contracts and binding commitments from prospective equity investors. Non-binding letters of intent from prospective licensees or investors are not acceptable.

Rogers Telefund does not seek equity participation.

Interim Loans: The size of a loan depends on the nature of the project and the needs of the producer. Telefund interim loans bear better interest rates than those from financial institutions. There is no administration fee.

The one book to guide you through the legal and business aspects of the motion picture and television industry in Canada —

Canadian Film & Television Business & Legal Practice

Tony Duarte, B.A., LL.B.

This unique book covers the entire process involved in motion picture and television production and distribution, from a distinctly Canadian perspective.

From the rights acquisition stage, through engagement of key personnel, to financing, licensing, delivery and distribution, Canadian Film & Television Business & Legal Practice provides indispensable practical guidance you can use immediately.

Tony Duarte, a leading expert in this area, offers a step-by-step account of all the current legal and business considerations involved including issues of:

- copyright, trade-marks, defamation, confidential information, privacy and publicity

- guild and union requirements
- representation by agents
- errors and omissions and production insurance
- tax credits and other production financing
- completion guarantees
- Canadian content
- music
- domestic and international co-productions
- licensing and distribution

As well, checklists outline each stage of production; charts clarify the rules governing tax credits and forms of agreements with sample clauses help illustrate basic contract drafting requirements.

The Alberta Motion Picture Industries Association (AMPIA) is a non-profit professional service association serving the independent motion picture production community in the province of Alberta. AMPIA was founded in 1973 with the single aim of furthering the independent motion picture industry as a viable economic and cultural force within the province.

Historically, AMPIA has been recognized and called upon to serve as a voice for the Alberta film and video industries. In 1994 the Association strengthened this voice by expanding its membership to include a broader base of industry professionals within its voting membership. Likewise, the organization expanded the size and scope of the AMPIA Board of Directors to reflect the various sectors of this dynamic industry.

A monthly newsletter, Keep It Rolling, goes out to more than 800 people in the film industry, both members and non-members of AMPIA. Other Association activities include industry advocacy, professional development and information services.

The Canadian Picture Pioneers was formed in 1940 as an organization dedicated to the welfare of all men and women of the motion picture industry. It has grown to its present-day strength of over 900 members in six branches across the country.

Original membership requirements called for 25 years of service in the industry. This period of service has now been reduced to 15 years. Anyone qualifies for membership - doorman, cashier, caretaker, manager, projectionist, booker, etc. Its Trust Fund helps members of the film industry by, for example, frequently paying additional costs not covered by a health insurance plan and providing for wheelchairs and special treatments.

Aims & Objectives

To create and promote friendly relations among those who have been or are engaged in or connected with the motion picture industry.

To create and promote friendly relations and understanding between the public and those engaged in or connected with the motion picture industry.

To aid those in need who were formerly in the motion picture industry without requiring repayment of any kind from the recipient.

The Association's head office is in Toronto, and each province has its own organization.

ShowCanada

The Association's annual convention and trade show is held at a different location in Canada each year, and member provinces take turns hosting the three-day event. Four hundred delegates participate in the seminars and social activities, which include screenings of new products.

In 2001 the convention will be held at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel, Quebec City, QC; and in 2002 at Banff Springs Hotel, Banff, AB.

ShowCanada Showmanship Awards

The Showmanship Awards, presented at a ceremony during each convention, were devised to encourage managers to create promotions around film product and special showings. The current five categories for theatre-level personnel are:

- The Blockbuster Film Award – for studio-initiated films with massive merchandising and promotional components
- Showmanship Award – for a film-specific campaign which has been developed by a theatre manager or circuit
- Audience Development Award – for programs focusing on community service and audience development
- Concessions Award – for the best snack promotion

Canada's largest producer and distributor of motion pictures. This past year, through its three distribution arms, Alliance Atlantis Motion Picture Distribution, Alliance Atlantis Vivafilm, and Odeon Films, the organization placed a close second in overall market share. By recording its second 100 million dollar box office year in 2000, AA has become the only company in Canadian history to achieve this threshold consecutively. With the line-up for 2001, which includes Spy Kids, Scary Movie 2, Gangs of New York, Rush Hour 2 and Lord of the Rings, AA is poised to take back its leadership position at the Canadian box office.

The Film Circuit, a division of the Toronto International Film Festival Group, was launched in the fall of 1995 to create a broader-based network for Canadian and significant international films. The Film Circuit has launched multiple successful screenings of such films as The Red Violin, Last Night and The Hanging Garden. These films would not have the opportunity to be shown in the smaller sized centres of Ontario and British Columbia without the Circuit. The Circuit is proving to be a viable network for helping to deliver Canadian films to a broader public spectrum. Currently The Film Circuit consists of 44 active communities.

Headquartered in Montréal, with offices in Los Angeles and Toronto, TVA International is the filmed entertainment production and distribution division of Québec broadcaster TVA Group. TVA Group recently made a friendly takeover of Motion International, the second largest independent producer in Canada and the leading Canadian distributor of television programs.
Handles exclusive distribution in Québec of films produced by DreamWorks. The leading supplier of TV programming to Canadian Broadcasters, providing both foreign and Canadian-produced product. Through a joint-venture sales company (Fox/Motion) 4,000 hours of programming was sold to national broadcasters in 1998 - 1999, including Ally
McBeal, the Simpsons, The X Files, NYPD
BlueB, Nash Bridges and The Sopranos.
Also a leader in Canada in merchandise licensing (the Barney property licensing program resulted in excellent retail sales in the publishing, home video, audio and plush toy categories).

The Film Classification Office regulates the public exhibition, rental and distribution of films and videos in British Columbia. All films shown publicly and all adult videos sold or rented through video retail outlets must be viewed and classified by the Film Classification Office, which has the authority to:

- approve or refuse the exhibition or distribution of a film or adult video
 - order removal of prohibited material
 - assign advisory captions that appear in all newspaper advertising of a film
- The Film Classification Office also:
- licenses theatres, films and video distributors, and video retailers, and conducts regular inspections of theatres and video outlets
 - is responsible for maintaining community standards in film and video products distributed in B.C.
 - monitors legislation, programs and court cases relating to film classification, censorship and obscenity across Canada

The Film Classification Office was the first province in Canada to adopt the new classification nomenclature developed by provincial classification authorities for the Canadian film and home video industry. On October 1, 1997, the Province of British Columbia entered into an agreement under which the Province of Saskatchewan recognizes the classifications of films and approvals of adult video products issued by the B.C. Film Classification Office.

Classification

- (a) General — Suitable for viewing by persons of all ages. Occasional violence, swearing and coarse language and the most innocent of sexually suggestive scenes and nudity are permitted in this category.
- (b) Parental Guidance — Parental guidance advised. Theme or content may not be suitable for all children although there is no age restriction. Motion pictures in this category may contain less subtle sexually suggestive scenes and nudity and a more realistic portrayal of violence than in the General category; coarse language may occur more often than in the General category.
- (c) 14A — Suitable for persons 14 years of age or older. Persons under the age of 14 must view these motion pictures accompanied by an adult. Motion pictures in this category may contain violence, coarse language or sexually suggestive scenes, or any combination of them.

- (d) 18A — Persons under 18 years of age must view these motion pictures accompanied by an adult. Motion pictures in this category will contain horror, explicit violence, frequent coarse language, or scenes that are more sexually suggestive than in the 14A category, or any combination of them.
- (e) Restricted — Restricted to persons 18 years of age and over. Persons under 18 years of age are not permitted to attend under any circumstances. These motion pictures are "adult motion pictures", as defined in the Motion Picture Act, and may contain explicit sexual scenes, violence or scenes referred to in section 5(3) of the Act, or any combination of them. The director will assign this classification to motion pictures if the director considers that the theme, subject matter or plot of the adult motion picture is artistic, historical, political, educational or scientific.
- (f) Adult — Restricted to persons 18 years of age and over. Persons under 18 years of age are not permitted to attend under any circumstances. These motion pictures are "adult motion pictures", as defined in the Act, and may contain explicit sexual scenes or scenes of brutality or torture to persons or animals, or any combination of them, that are portrayed in a realistic and explicit manner; however, the scenes would, in the director's opinion, be tolerable to the community.

Film Classification

The Theatres Act gives the Ontario Film Review Board the responsibility of reviewing all films publicly exhibited or distributed in the Province of Ontario and to assign a classification it feels reflects the content. To do this, the Board uses guidelines which in their opinion accurately reflect the level of tolerance indicated by the community standards of the Ontario public. These guidelines are under continual reassessment and review.

The Board classifies film into four categories:

- Family - Should be suitable for unattended children in the theatre.
- Parental Guidance - Parents cautioned that content may not be suitable for all children.
- Adult Accompaniment - Film appropriate for 14 and over and also suitable for viewing by children under 14 accompanied by an adult.
- Restricted - Film restricted to persons 18 years of age and over.
- Eliminations - Each film is judged on its own merit. The Board may prohibit or require eliminations in a film based on the criteria set out in the regulations to the Theatres Act.

Sales Tax on Admission Charges

Vendors must record the admission charges collected and the tax remitted. In places of entertainment, the owner is responsible for the collection of admission charges. Some admission charges are exempt of tax under the Act.

Mel Machado, Manager

The Canadian Audio-Visual Certification Office (CAVCO) and the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) jointly administer the Canadian Film or Video Production Tax Credit (CPTC) and the Film or Video Production Services Tax Credit (PSTC).

Canadian Film or Video Production Tax Credit Program (CPTC)

Under the Canadian Film or Video Production Tax Credit program, CAVCO performs two distinct functions: (1) Canadian content recognition, and (2) estimation of the eligible expenses of production. The responsibilities of the CCRA are to provide assistance to claimants; to interpret and apply section 125.4 and all other provisions of the Income Tax Act and the Income Tax Regulations that may have an impact on the CPTC; review or audit the film tax credit claims within a reasonable time frame; and provide timely refund cheques.

The CPTC is available at a rate of 25% of eligible salaries and wages expended after 1994. Eligible salaries and wages qualifying for the new credit may not exceed 48% of the cost of the production, net of assistance, as certified by the Minister of Canadian Heritage. Therefore, the tax credit could provide assistance of up to 12% of the cost of production, net of assistance. However, the tax credit may not be claimed in respect of a Canadian certified production any part of the cost of which is financed by flowing-out capital cost allowance or other deductions to investors.

Film or Video Production Services Tax Credit Program (PSTC)

CAVCO's role under the new Film or Video Production Services Tax Credit is to determine the eligibility of the production and to issue an Accredited Film or Video Production Certificate on behalf of the Minister of Canadian Heritage. The CCRA's role is to provide assistance to claimants; interpret and apply section 125.5 and all other provisions of the Income Tax Act and the Income Tax Regulations that may have an impact on the PSTC; review or audit the film tax credit claims within a reasonable time frame; and provide timely refund cheques.

The PSTC is a tax credit equal to 11% of salary and wages paid to Canadian residents or taxable Canadian corporations (for amounts paid to employees who are Canadian residents) for services provided to the production in Canada. This refundable tax credit has no cap on the amount that can be claimed, and it is available to taxable Canadian corporations or foreign-owned corporations with permanent establishments in Canada.

As a cultural investor, Telefilm Canada's mission is to provide financial assistance and strategic leverage to the industry in producing high-quality works that reflect Canadian society, including its linguistic duality and cultural diversity, while ensuring their widest possible distribution in Canada and abroad.
Established in 1967 as a Crown corporation, Telefilm Canada enjoys an annual budget of approximately $180 million, which enables it to act as a key financing, strategic and promotional partner on the national and international scenes.

Diversified Support: From Scriptwriting to International Sales

Telefilm administers 15 funds and programs including the Equity Investment Program (EIP) of the Canadian Television Fund (CTF), a public-private partnership; the Feature Film Fund; and the Multimedia Fund.

Each year it contributes to the development and production of some 600 feature films, made-for-TV movies, drama series, documentaries, children's programs, variety shows and multimedia products of outstanding cultural value. To ensure that these products reach large audiences, the Corporation participates in other industry activities such as distribution, export, versioning, marketing and promotion at Canadian and foreign festivals and markets. Telefilm's financial support is varied. Most often provided as an investment, it also comes in the form of advances, loans, loan guarantees and grants. Telefilm shares product risks and revenues with the industry.
Recouped amounts are reinvested in production and distribution activities. Telefilm Canada provides targeted support for small and mid-size companies in all regions of the country. Access to project development resources, the Production Revenue-Sharing Program and the International Marketing Fund is reserved exclusively for these companies and the Corporation's group stand facilitates

A Strong National and International Presence

Téléfilm's four Canadian offices provide their clients with a wide range of services. Located in Montréal (corporate headquarters), Toronto, Vancouver and Halifax, they stimulate creativity on a national scale. The Corporation also operates an office in Paris, which provides valuable expertise for implementing international strategies that open new markets for Canadian production. Téléfilm Canada administers Canada's co-production agreements with 54 countries. These agreements serve as instruments for the development of the Canadian industry, ensuring both financing and foreign distribution for Canadian products.

Organisme culturel du gouvernement canadien, Téléfilm Canada est vouée au développement et à la promotion de l'industrie canadienne du film, de la télévision et des nouveaux médias. En tant qu'investisseur culturel, a mission est d'offrir à l'industrie un appui financier et stratégique qui vise la production d'œuvres de qualité reflétant la société canadienne, avec sa dualité linguistique et sa diversité culturelle, et qui favorise la distribution la plus large possible de ces œuvres au Canada et à l'étranger. Société d'État créée en 1967, Téléfilm Canada bénéficie d'un budget annuel d'environ 180 millions de dollars qui lui permet de jouer un rôle financier, stratégique et promotionnel déterminant, tant au plan national qu'international.

Un soutien diversifié, de la scénarisation aux ventes internationales

Téléfilm Canada administre une quinzaine de fonds et programmes dont le Programme de participation au capital (PPC) du Fonds canadien de télévision (FCT), un partenariat des secteurs public et privé, le Fonds de financement de longs métrages et le Fonds pour le multimédia. La Société contribue chaque année au développement et à la production de près de 600 longs métrages, téléfilms, séries dramatiques, émissions documentaires, émissions pour enfants, émissions de variétés et produits multimédias d'une grande valeur culturelle. La Société s'assure que ces produits atteignent de vastes publics en s'associant à d'autres activités de l'industrie comme la distribution, l'exportation, le doublage, le sous-titrage, le marketing et la promotion dans les festivals et les marchés canadiens et étrangers. L'appui financier de Téléfilm est varié. Il prend surtout la forme d'investissements, mais aussi d'avances, de prêts, de cautionnements de prêts et de subventions. Téléfilm partage avec l'industrie les risques et les revenus liés à l'exploitation des produits. Les revenus qu'elle récupère sont réinvestis dans des activités de production et de distribution de l'industrie. Téléfilm Canada porte une attention particulière aux petites et moyennes entreprises de toutes les régions du pays. Ainsi, les sommes relatives au développement des projets, au Programme de partage des revenus de production et au Fonds d'aide au marketing international sont exclusivement réservées aux PME et la Société facilite la présence des PME à ses stands dans les grands marchés internationaux.

Une force à l'échelle canadienne et internationale

Les quatre bureaux de la Société au Canada offrent un large éventail de services à leurs clientèles. Situés à Montréal, où est le siège social de l'organisme, Toronto, Vancouver et Halifax, ces bureaux stimulent la créativité à l'échelle nationale. La Société a aussi un bureau à Paris dont l'expertise s'avère précieuse pour la mise en œuvre de stratégies internationales qui ouvrent de nouveaux marchés à la production canadienne. Téléfilm Canada administre les accords de coproduction du Canada avec 54 pays étrangers. Ces accords sont des outils de développement de l'industrie canadienne, tant en ce qui concerne le financement que la diffusion des produits sur la scène internationale.

Officially launched on Feb. 1, 2001 the Ontario

Media Development Corporation (OMDC)

assumed the functions of the Ontario Film

Development Corp. The OMDC is an agency of the Ontario government that provides a range of innovative programs and services to stimulate the growth of Ontario's film, television, book and magazine publishing, sound recording and digital media industries.

Corporate Affairs (CA)

Corporate Affairs provides the strategic direction and structure that enables the agency to achieve its objectives. Corporate Affairs is responsible for research, communications and marketing, financial services, information systems and human resources. Corporate Affairs markets and promotes Ontario's capabilities at key international markets to ensure awareness of Ontario's advantages as a production centre. Corporate Affairs manages the agency's relationship with our core clients: the Canadian Film Centre and the Toronto International Film Festival Group, which includes the Toronto Film Festival and Cinematheque Ontario, as well as the Canadian Feature Film Project with the CFC.

Skills Development & Marketing Initiatives (SDMI)

- The AI Waxman Calling Card programs provide Ontario producers and directors poised to make a first long-form drama or documentary production with an opportunity to create a short "calling card" film with which to prove their readiness to make long-form projects.
- Market Mentorships help emerging producers gain an understanding of the international marketplace and make contacts through direct involvement at key industry events or structured meetings in particular territories, with the guidance of experienced industry mentors.

- Partnerships in Training assists industry organizations developing innovative training that targets the gaps in professional development for emerging producers.
- The Practical Mechanics internship program builds emerging producers' business skills through a combination of 20-week work placements and intensive workshops.
- The New Media Executive Forum is a series of workshops devoted to the professional development of new media executives. Unique and timely offerings address industry issues relevant to both emerging and experienced executives.
- Entrepreneurial Solutions for Producers involve one-on-one advisory sessions and intensive workshops designed to enhance their small business management skills.

Location Promotion & Services (LPS)

LPS promotes the advantages of Ontario as a filming location and production centre to domestic and foreign producers. The OMDC Location Library is a valuable resource with photo files of more than 10,000 Ontario shooting locations. provides unparalleled incentive for higher levels of technical and professional achievement among all branches of filmmaking and has become the cinema's most effective single ambassador. It is widely recognized that the motion picture is one of our most important sources of information, education and entertainment. This, and the constantly rising artistic merit of films produced throughout the world, are due, in part, to the Academy. The Academy is a non-profit organization whose field of activity does not include economic, labour or political matters.

Purposes

The purposes of the Academy are to advance the arts and sciences of motion pictures; foster cooperation among creative leaders of cultural, educational and technological progress; recognize outstanding achievements; cooperate on technical research and improvement of methods and equipment; provide a common forum and meeting ground for various branches and crafts; represent the viewpoint of the actual creators of the motion picture and foster educational activities between the public and the film industry.

History

The Academy was organized in May 1927 as a non-profit corporation, chartered under the laws of California. Its 36 charter members included production executives and film luminaries of the time.

The Academy moved into its present quarters in Beverly Hills in 1975. The seven-story building includes the Samuel Goldwyn Theater, and administrative and publications offices.

The Academy's Center for Motion Picture Study, encompassing the Margaret Herrick Library, the Roddy McDowall Photograph Archive, and the Academy Film Archive, is at 333 South La Cienega Boulevard, also in Beverly Hills.

Dorothy and Oscar Burritt founded the first film society in Canada. Established in February 1964, this Award perpetuates the unique spirit and dedication of these true film pioneers. After the untimely death in 1999 of Patricia Thompson, who was also very active in the film society movement for many years, the Trustees decided to include her name in this Award. Pat was also publisher & editor of Film Canada Yearbook, and active in many facets of the Canadian film industry.

The Award is competitive, and given by its Trustees to an individual or volunteer / non-profit organization wishing to undertake / start a project designed to enrich and enhance film appreciation, and which will contribute to a wider enjoyment and awareness of film as an art. Mid-April is the deadline for applications to the annual Award competition.

The winner of the 36th (2000) Award of $2,500 was Joanna Hlilchie, Waverley, Nova Scotia. The grant will enable Joanna Hlilchie to do a mock film shoot with elementary school children. The film to be used will be a ten-minute dramatic film for children called Lara's Light, produced by Joanna Hlilchie in 1998 under the National Institute's Drama Prize Program.

The Burritt / Thompson Award is registered as a charitable organization under the Income Tax Act.

Students begin working with 16mm film in their first year and are encouraged to develop their interests in directing, editing, screenwriting, film sound, camera, music and all aspects of dramatic, experimental and documentary production. The possibilities of the medium are expanded each year in historical and theoretical courses that explore critical and contemporary issues in sound and moving image production. Interdisciplinary work is encouraged. Students may undertake incidental or substantial studies in dance, music, theatre, visual art and technical theatre. The school is equipped with 16mm and video production facilities, including non-linear editing and digital sound suites. The program leads to a BFA in Film Production, or applicants may apply for an extended minor.

Given its position within the Faculty of Fine Arts, the Department of Film & Video approaches its subject matter as a means of artistic and cultural expression. By focusing on the creative process, technology and the theoretical and critical analysis of film and video texts, the Department offers an environment that integrates the Studies and Production disciplines. Thus, the BA students gain both a practical and a theoretical understanding of the image-making process, and the BFA students benefit by having access to more than a simple production-oriented understanding of the same process. Furthermore, the Department's mandate encourages students/artists to develop their own unique voice in their chosen medium. The result is that the program does not turn out a single style of image-making or critical thought, but rather allows for a great diversity of expression from the most avant-garde to the most mainstream.

Bachelor of Arts (four-year)

A traditional four-year liberal arts degree which allows students to develop the basic skills of analysis, problem solving, decision making and communication along with a concentration in Film Studies. Armed with these skills, a cross-disciplinary knowledge base and a strong cultural awareness, BA graduates pursue a wide range of careers in such areas as law, business, public administration, secondary and university teaching, arts administration, critics / historians, museum studies, creative writing, advertising and media consulting.

Bachelor of Arts Honours

For those students who meet the higher academic requirements, this program allows greater concentration in the major area, more independent study opportunities and close one-to-one supervision by a faculty member. Students wishing to pursue graduate studies are urged to take this program.

BFA Film and Video

The program begins with an examination of the history, syntax and theory of motion pictures, and then proceeds to the basics of film and videotape production – including scriptwriting, directing, recording, editing and music. Technical production classes are complemented by classes in the history and development of cinema, including Canadian and Third World cinema, Hollywood, documentary and contemporary film. Continuation in the BFA program is based on portfolio, interview and grade average. At the end of the BFA program students are able to research and write a story and prepare shooting script to professional standards; produce, i.e., manage the business side of a production and ensure that it is marketable; and direct all aspects of a production. The program prepares students to become independent film / video artists or writers, directors and producers for the industry. While technical instruction is given and technical knowledge is required, the curriculum is not intended to train technicians.

The two-year diploma course in Film Production explores many aspects of documentary and drama production. In-depth studies of the many and multifaceted crafts that are required in production provide a solid basis for second-year specialization.

Essentially, the program is a hands-on endeavour and operates on a production company concept with the instructor as executive producer. Emphasis is placed on duplication of the film industry. Budget and pre-production are treated equally with production and post-production. In addition to the film core subjects the student will take a number of general subjects complementing film production.

Graduates may find junior levels of employment in every area of the film industry. These include production, camera, lighting, sound, editing and writing.

The program offers a balance of courses to equip students with practical / technical training as well as the theoretical / aesthetic component necessary to succeed in this industry. Students are trained in the operation of all "tools of the trade". At the same time, the program emphasizes the "process" and the "thinking" that goes into TV production.

The discipline of the broadcasting industry, professional attitudes and behaviours involving initiative, judgement, responsibility and respect are highly stressed. Graduates may apply for entry-level positions as announcers, writers, reporters, production and operations personnel and for positions in the related fields of sales, promotion, advertising and public relations.

The Program

Film & Television Production is a three-year diploma program which combines the creative and the technical with emphasis on hands-on training and interdisciplinary practical projects. Students develop and produce a wide range of productions on both film and video: from documentary to experimental to dramatic.

Curriculum & Faculty

Extensive training in the first two years of the program includes lighting, cinematography, sound, production management, post-production, script writing, directing, videography, computer multimedia and TV production. There is also an Independent Production course which supports individual student projects in addition to the interdisciplinary crew projects. Students in the third year of the program specialize in the disciplines of their choice and continue to train for their entry into the industry. Of note are Film / TV Business Practices and Field Placement courses which prepare students to work as freelancers. Third-year students also complete major projects (dramatic, corporate and commercial) which add greatly to their portfolios. These student projects have won recognition and awards at various festivals in Canada and the United States.

The key to the success of the Humber College Film & TV Production Program is the faculty. These are dedicated instructors, full- and part-time, who continue to work in the industry. They bring relevant experience, vitality and a sense of immediacy to the classroom.

Employment

Students have a very high placement rate upon completion of the program. Graduates work with post-production houses, in production management, camera crews, sound crews, art departments, and as writers, directors and location managers. Many graduates go on to direct and produce their own independent productions.

TAKE ONE

FILM & TELEVISION IN CANADA

Take One is Awesome!
Ron Mann, director/producer
Comic Book Confidential, Twist, Grass.

Take One is the magazine you read to find out what your colleagues are up to.
John Walker, director/cinematographer
Strand: Under the Dark Cloth, A Winter Tan

Smart writing about talented filmmakers, what else do you need?
Patricia Rozema, director/writer
I've Heard the Mermaids Singing, Mansfield Park

Take One has become, without question, the single most important print resource for Canadian film culture. Its several thematic issues have been thoughtful, even provocative, and have helped focus debate and offered new information to those in the field. The standards demanded of its writers is consistently high.
Peter Morris, author The Film Companion, Embattled Shadows: The History of Canadian Cinema 1895-1939

Every country needs a national film journal. Luckily we have Take One, my monthly connection to real Canadian thinking about our movies. Indispensable.
Gene Walz, author
Cartoon Charlie

Take One has created a strong voice for Canadian independent cinema, unabashedly celebrating our achievements and providing thoughtful commentary on the films and the filmmakers.
Alex Raffé, producer I Love a Man in Uniform, I've Heard the Mermaids Singing, Zero Patience

One of the most essential journals about film and television in Canada
Gerald Pratley, founder of the Ontario Film Institute

Why not convince your relatives to subscribe like I have and then THEY can finally figure out what you do for a living, and YOU can finally figure out that FILM is a living that you can never figure out.
Peter Wintonick, director/editor
Manufacturing Consent: Noam Chomsky and the Media, Cinéma Vérité: Defining the Moment

I appreciate the care and professional quality of Take One. It gives me a look at the whole range of Canadian film.
Colin Low, director/producer/animator The Romance of Transportation in Canada, Corral, City of Gold, Moving Pictures.

A SINGLE FRAME OF FILM CONTAINS OVER 12 MILLION PIXELS OF INFORMATION

AND THE FULL RANGE OF HUMAN EMOTION

SOUL

When you want to move an audience, take someone's breath away, or perhaps hint at the mysteries of the human heart, naturally, you turn to film. Because only film sees the world the same way people do. Not in a rigid grid of binary code, but in the warm, human palette of true colour and genuine light and shadow. With its greater tonal range, film gives you much more leeway to create mood and convey emotional depth. But beyond its expressive richness, film also captures more raw information. Which gives you more creative options later on. And ultimately, more opportunities to touch the human soul.

Make an informed choice when selecting your capture medium.
